

IMPORTANT NOTES FOR ALL H.O.T. EVOLUTION ATTENDEES

1. Students must bring their own NFPA-compliant bunker or technical rescue gear. FDIC will not supply it.
2. Bunker gear ensemble includes NFPA-compliant turnout coat and pants, helmet, hood, firefighting boots, and gloves.
3. Technical rescue gear ensemble includes jumpsuit or BDUs, compliant helmet, steel-toed boots, compliant eye shields, and gloves.
4. Bunker gear is required for all evolutions except ABCs of Air Bags, Handling Elevator Emergencies, Structural Collapse Rescue, and Truck Company: Rope Rescue for Truck Operations. For these, technical rescue gear as listed above is appropriate.
5. FDIC will supply SCBA for students as required. Students must bring hoods for Conducting NFPA 1403-Compliant Live-Burn Training, First-Due Engine and Truck Tactics, Flashover Simulator, Live Fire Instructor for Fixed Burn Buildings, RIT Combat Drills, and Truck Company Operations: Search Procedures.
6. Remember to submit Liability Waiver signed by chief of department.
7. 1,200 firefighters participate in evolutions on each of the H.O.T. days. Naturally, the logistical requirements are large. As a courtesy to your fellow brothers and sisters and to FDIC, we must insist that you arrive on time both Monday and Tuesday mornings. On time means 6:30 a.m. In the past, we have lost precious training time because latecomers delayed morning bus-loading operations. Please arrive at the convention center early and ready to go.
